GARNET QUINTET BEATS HAMILTON

Fast Playing and Long Shots Account For Union's Victory Over Buff and Blue—Hill Team Shows Inaccuracy in Shooting

SCORE 27 TO 12

Hamilton's basketball squad went down to Schenectady last Saturday, carrying with them visions of a victory over the Garnet. They returned, sadder but wiser, for the Union quintet, aided by numerous substitutions and cheered on by many fair Prom girls, trounced the Buff and Blue five to the tune of 27-12. Hamilton was decidedly off form, Garner alone playing his usual whirlwind game at center. Failures to locate the basket for close shots accounted for Hamilton's small score. The game was fast and inclined to be a trifle rough in spots. The Garnet five secured a big lead in the first half, making some lucky shots. Hamilton fought hard in the second half, but was unable to come back strong enough.

The game started with a rush in the first half. Numerous fouls were called at the beginning of the period. Smith made the first field goal of the game, caging the ball after some fast passwork. Both teams showed uncertainty at first. The Buff and Blue showed up well a few minutes later in the game when Hatch made Hamilton's second goal. Union made the next goal, a sensational long shot, which tied the score. Richmond made another goal soon after, and from that time on, Union was never headed. The Garnet five seemed to possess an uncanny accuracy for long shots, especially from the side. As a result, the half ended with the score 20-8 in Union's favor.

In the second half, Hamilton fought hard. Neither side scored many field goals, the ball going back and forth, now in Hamilton's possession, now in Union's. This period was much rougher than the first and Referee Risley called many fouls. Drohan, Union center, made a great shot after the ball had been carried the full length of the floor. The Buff

PSI U'S ENTERTAIN

The Psi of Psi Upsilon entertained at a tea dance on Friday afternoon, February 3, from four until six-thirty. The occasion was the opening of the new chapter house to the college body and was largely attended. Those assisting were Mrs. George E. Dunham, Mrs. George C. Morehouse, Mrs. Vilas M. Swan and Mrs. W. Reed Turner. Music was furnished by Damon of Rochester.

NOTICE

The third annual dinner of the Hamilton College Alumni Association of California will be held at the Hotel Vista Del Arroyo in Pasadena on the evening of February 21.

The association would be glad to have present any Hamilton College alumnus who may be visiting in Southern California at this time. Reservations may be made by communicating with S. W. Royce, '14, at the Hotel Vista Del Arroyo, Pasadena.

BASKETBALL TEAM MEETS AMHERST FOR NEXT GAME

The Buff and Blue quintet plays its next game with Amherst this Friday night at Amherst. The Purple and White has not had an exceptionally fortunate season to date. Trinity defeated Amherst in the first game by a score of 37 to 23. In the second game Amherst was victorious over Clark University and came out on the long end of a 29-27 score. M. I. T. defeated Amherst last Friday night 25-15. The probable line-up of the Purple and White will be: Elliott or Walker, lf.; Eames or Millard, rf.; Lamberton, c.; Wood, lg.; Phelps, rg.

HAMILTON SEXTET WINS FAST GAME

Hockey Team Defeats Mass. Aggies in Fast Game by Score of 5 to 3—Buff and Blue Makes Five Goals in Third Period—Display Better Team Work

The fastest game of the hockey season was played January 28 on the new rink, when the Buff and Blue skaters crashed through with a 5-3 victory over the Massachusetts Aggies. The Aggies drew first blood, when Hodgdon put one past "Dick" Reeder in the initial period. There were no more points scored until the third period. At that time Hamilton got started when Yates received a pass from W. Thompson, and shot the puck past Kroeck, for the first score. Soon after this the Thompson brothers made a goal apiece. A fourth goal was made by the Buff and Blue when the puck glanced off a skate. Hamilton's fifth score was made by "Russ" Thompson. In the same period the Aggies succeeded in adding two goals to their score.

The Aggies' defense was excellent in the first two periods, but they were taken by surprise in the third, and were beaten before they knew what had happened. There was a decided improvement in Hamilton's team-work.

The line-up:
HAMILTON 5 MASS. AGGIES 3
R.W.
Thompson, R. Lyons
L.W.
Bates Gordon
C.
Thompson, W. Haskins
R.D.
Marlow Hodgdon
L. D.
Reeder, R. G. Collins
G.
Reeder, R. J. Kroeck

Referee: Noonan. Substitutions: Hamilton, Yates for Bates; Mass. Aggies, Lamb for Haskins, Whitaker for Gordon, Gordon for Lamb.

HOCKEY RINK NOTICE

A tentative schedule has been arranged for the use of the hockey rink. The undergraduate body, the faculty, the trustees and the alumni and their families, will have the use of the rink as follows:

Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 3:30 to 5:15.
Tuesday and Thursday, 4:30 to 5:15.
Sunday, 2:30 to 5:00.
After regularly scheduled games.

MUSICIANS MAKE SUCCESSFUL DEBUT

Prom Concert in Commons on Friday Great Success—Varied Program Delivered With Snap and Vim

The annual concert of the Musical Clubs in their first appearance of the year was the attraction on Friday afternoon of Junior Week. A large and appreciative audience assembled in the Hall of Commons to hear the Clubs in their customary Prom Concert. The program was particularly noteworthy for the amount of "pep" and enthusiasm which the performers put into each number. The selections were very well balanced and varied, ranging from a classical solo to the ever-present jazz and vaudeville numbers.

The Glee Club opened the program with the singing of two of the best known Hamilton songs. The Glee Club appeared only once more, when they sang "The Clang of the Forge" and another Hamilton song.

The Instrumental Club played their selections with the ease and confidence of a professional orchestra. Unusually attractive were the solo parts introduced into the popular songs. Riedel's violin solo in the first chorus of Ka-Lu-a made a pleasing contrast to the jazz time of the verses and the second chorus. The saxophone came into its own in Why Dear, a selection particularly adapted to that instrument and the carrying of the melody by the cornet in Cho-Cho-San produced an excellent effect with the string accompaniment.

The vaudeville numbers registered the real hits of the performance. Maynard, always amusing and entertaining, rendered Frankie and Johnnie and Dapper Dan, with the accompaniment of a banjo, saxophone, and piano, in a most effective and informal manner. He was the Big Bertha in conjunction with the Light Artillery. The Three Little Maids from School, with their three banjos and their "hot-dog" ending, completely captured the audience. Opening with Uncle Posey, they next introduced the Faculty Blues, written by Bates and Dowdell, of the class of '24. This particular brand of Faculty Blues is peculiar to Hamilton College, as the words concern the professors on the Hamilton faculty.

The college is fortunate in having an excellent quartet, composed of Burns, Macey, Moore and Maynard, whose voices blend unusually well. Their selections Friday afternoon were made up of some old favorites and one or two numbers in a quieter vein which showed the true merit of their voices. The program was closed with the singing of Carissima.

ORIENTAL SETTING DISGUISES GYM AS COUPLES ENJOY PROM

Biggest Social Event of Years Attended by Many, and Hailed as Great Success—Soper Gymnasium Acquires Japanese Atmosphere.

The delicate atmosphere of the Japanese Isles reigned within the gymnasium last Friday night while Old Man Winter flaunted his fury around the campus in a vain effort to invade the scene of merry-making. Good music furnished the necessary stimulus to force the many couples to forget their troubles and glide rhythmically over the old stamping ground of the gym classes. The Japanese Sandman, a fitting person to be present amid the dreamy atmosphere of the Orient, was unable to dampen the spirit of the dance which ruled supreme over the congregation of dancers until the break of day put an end to the big event of the year—the Junior Prom.

Good taste in decorations and a clever arrangement of booths made the gym a most suitable place for the dance. Strangers of varied colors were artistically draped from the center of the ceiling to the edge of the indoor track. At one end of the floor, a large canvas depicting a Japanese scene gave enough color to carry out the general plan of setting. Damon's orchestra was stationed on a platform at the opposite end of the room.

Much credit is due to George C. Morehouse, '23, chairman of the prom committee for the success of the affair. The other members on the committee were: Cannon, Doane, Fitzgerald, Heffron, Morris, Loomis, Hall, Loveland and Sweeney. The refreshments were served by Mrs. Southworth.

Keep Hamilton Small.

If you are an ardent party partisan of the "old school" and, for the sake of argument, let us assume a Republican, your attitude toward all Democrats or Socialists or any other partisans would probably be very certain. To say of a man "He is a Democrat," would be to stigmatize him beyond his redemption by any personal merits. You would judge a person, in other words, by the organization of which he was a part. Of his character you might even prefer to know nothing. Your opinion would be influenced by form rather than content. Is that just? We think not.

In a large college or university that is the psychology. Students are judged and learn to judge each other, not by the characteristics that go to make them, but by the organization or group to which they belong. The weak conform to the fashion about them and we have such a product as the "collegiate." Personalities are stunted by a greater force—Opinion.

But a small college offers the inestimable privilege of Youth to find itself. Men are viewed intimately, personally. What a man is, depends on what he does, not on his fortunate or unfortunate affiliations. Human nature may be studied in its natural state and not under the restraint or goading of a class. Every man who has inherent abilities may make a place for himself, if he will. And he can achieve something which is better than Knowledge—Understanding.

The argument hinges on the reader's opinion. Is an instructed or an understanding heart more desirable, assuming for the moment that they do not appear as co-existent qualities? It is our opinion that Understanding is the proper aim of education.

Hamilton is a small college, almost unique in its field. It offers almost every opportunity for personal development which any college can. But it has been accused of Provincialism! We should bow with pleasure.

Provincialism is opposed to Sophistication. But is Sophistication an unmitigated advantage? Sophistication too often carries with it the blemish of self-satisfaction. Mr. Webster contends that it means: refined overmuch, made artificial, made knowing or worldly-wise. Let us say that Sophistication does not preclude Understanding. Would it not be easier to combine the benefits of Provincialism and Sophistication than those of Sophistication and Provincialism?

Let us keep Hamilton small enough to maintain in their present degree of perfection the entirely worth-while advantages that we now have.

IN MEMORIAM

William Duncan Saunders died in Faxon Hospital in Utica on the evening of January twenty-second, aged fifteen years. The youngest man in College, he was called to a Greater University.

The son of Dean and Mrs. Saunders, Duncan early learned appreciation for the beautiful in life. His chief interest lay in the direction of poetry and art, and he, himself, even this early, gave evidence of no mean ability in the writing of original verse.

During the few years which were given him for study, he acquired such knowledge in linguistics that, besides his own tongue, he could speak German and French easily and fluently. His diligence in books gave rare promise of a true scholar, and his kindly, friendly manner marked this youngest freshman at Hamilton as a man whose acquaintance and friendship every student on the Hill might count it profit to possess. Having known him, we can also experience some of that sorrow which rests upon the household he has left; our hearts can go out to those, dearest to him, who grieve.

Yet, lover of beauty, companion of cheer, we do not think of you as of one whose life is ended. Your memory remains, an example of attainment which others may strive to emulate and aspire, in manner like you, to achieve.

HAMILTON LOSES HOCKEY GAME TO ARMY SEXTET

The Army vanquished Hamilton at hockey on January 21 in a hard but cleanly fought game, by a score of 3 to 0.

The cadets scored once in the opening period and twice in the final. Kastner, Army's goal tender, was a stone wall and Hamilton's stick-handlers bounced the puck frequently off his strong defensive. Marinelli was the Army's offensive star, scoring two of the cadets' three goals.

The lineup:

From A Faint Blue Glow
To Modern Miracles

EDISON saw it first—a mere shadow of blue light streaking across the terminals inside an imperfect electric lamp. This "leak" of electric current, an obstacle to lamp perfection, was soon banished by removing more air from the bulbs.

But the ghostly light, and its mysterious disappearance in a high vacuum remained unexplained for years.

Then J. J. Thomson established the electron theory on the transmission of electricity in a partial vacuum—and the blue light was understood. In a very high vacuum, however, the light and apparently the currents that caused it disappeared.

One day, however, a scientist in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company proved that a current could be made to pass through the highest possible vacuum, and could be varied according to fixed laws. But the phantom light had vanished.

Here was a new and definite phenomenon—a basis for further research.

Immediately, scientists began a series of experiments with far reaching practical results. A new type of X-ray tube, known as the Coolidge tube, soon gave a great impetus to the art of surgery. The Kenotron and Pliotron, followed in quick succession by the Dynatron and Magnetron, made possible long distance radio telephony and revolutionized radio telegraphy. And the usefulness of the "tron" family has only begun.

The troublesome little blue glow was banished nearly forty years ago. But for scientific research, it would have been forgotten. Yet there is hardly a man, woman or child in the country today whose life has not been benefited, directly or indirectly, by the results of the scientific investigations that followed.

Thus it is that persistent organized research gives man new tools, makes available forces that otherwise might remain unknown for centuries.

LIBRARY RECEIVES $100,000 TRUST FUND

Under the will of Hamilton B. Tompkins, '65, one of the trustees of Hamilton College, who died recently at Newport, R. I., the college will receive a trust fund of $100,000 and the residue of the estate, valued at considerably more. The $100,000 trust fund is to be used for the support and increase of the library and is to be known as the "Hamilton B. Tompkins Library Endowment Fund of Hamilton College." The will, dated March 8, 1908, leaves $25,000 to the testator's cousin and minor legacies to friends and servants. A bequest of $5,000 is also made to Wells College of Aurora, N. Y.

Among the contributors are Brandt, '20, Martin, '20, Nichols, '22, Reeder, '22, Smith, '22, Chase, '23, Brownell, '24, Chidchester, '24, Hastings, '24, Scott, '24, Soper, '25, and Towne, '25.

SYRACUSE FIVE DEFEATS BUFF AND BLUE QUINTET

Captain Stern's Men Outplayed by Orange Team and Lose 29-11

On Saturday evening, January 21, the basketball team played Syracuse University in the second game of the season away from home. The game ended with the Buff and Blue at the small end of a 29-11 score. The contest was staged in the Archibold Stadium before a large crowd. The game was characterized by the close defense work of the Syracuse team and by the poor shooting of Hamilton.

The play started with a rush when Hamilton caged two goals in the first five minutes of play. The Syracuse team then tightened up and allowed only two more field goals during the entire game. For the Syracuse basket-tossers the work of Bruckner and Kellogg was the out-standing feature.

ONE BRAND- ONE QUALITY- One Size Package

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigaretty aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—that is CAMEL QUALITY.

Buff and Blue Loses Sluggish Contest
Featured by Close Guarding by 20-15 Score—Varsity Fails to
"Get Started"

Clarkson Technical Institute defeated the Buff and Blue quintet Wednesday night, January 18, by a score of 20-15, in a slow game, the feature of which was the close guarding of both teams. At no time during the game did Captain Stern's men seem to be able to "get started," although they succeeded in gaining a one-point lead in the early part of the second half.

Clarkson scored the first basket and maintained the lead throughout the first half, both teams guarding closely and making many passes. Five minutes of the second half had passed before either team scored. Then Hamilton scored a long shot which gave the Buff and Blue her one-point lead. A free-throw for Clarkson tied the score. Tallies by Breckenridge and McGuigan gave the visitors a four-point lead. The rest of the game was a continuation of the close guarding of the first half, and the final score stood 20-15 against the Buff and Blue.

W. F. AMMANN, '24, DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Infection Following Operation Causes Death—Confined to Hospital Since Last July—Was An Ex-Service Man

The death of Walter Frank Ammann, aged 26 years, occurred on Wednesday, January 18, at his home in Osceola, N. Y. Ammann entered with the class of '24 but planned to graduate in '23 by doing summer school work. To this end he registered in the Syracuse University Summer School last July. Before he began his work, however, he suffered an attack of appendicitis and was taken to the Good Shepherd Hospital in Syracuse. Here he was operated on for appendicitis and within a week seemed well on the road to recovery. But an infection set in which necessitated his return to the hospital. He was confined to the Good Shepherd Hospital in Syracuse until December twenty-first, during which time he underwent three operations. The surgeons at the Syracuse hospital stated that no hope for his recovery was held during the last few days of his stay there. He was removed from Syracuse to his home. His condition was so serious, however, that he was taken to the Rome Hospital. When it was discovered that he had little time left to live he was again removed to his home where he died.

Ammann enlisted in the naval service at the beginning of America's conflict with Germany. He served during the period of the war and rose to a position of great trust among his superiors. He crossed the Atlantic thirteen times and was often put on watch in the crow's-nest. He also was entrusted with the helm on several voyages.

Although Ammann was somewhat older than his class-mates, his worth was recognized and he was elected as freshman member of the Honor Court. He also became a member of Beta Kappa fraternity. He was actively interested in college activities.

Beta Kappa fraternity sent Paul Pitkin, '22, Stewart Brownell, '24, Jay B. Williams, '23, and Albert Campbell, '23, to attend Ammann's funeral, which was held Sunday, January 22.

Report has been received of the death of George H. Geer, '95, for many years a teacher of mathematics in Bayonne, N. J. Death was due to embolism which followed an accident last August. He was a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity, and a brother of Clarence J. Geer, '90.
